U. S. DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE
ROY D. CHAPIN, SECRETARY
BUREAU OF THE CENSUS
W. M. STEUART, DIRECTOR

FIFTEENTH CENSUS OF THE UNITED STATES: 1930

CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY

SUMMARY FOR THE UNITED STATES

PREPARED UNDER THE SUPERVISION OF ROBERT J. McFALL
CHIEF STATISTICIAN FOR DISTRIBUTION

AND

ALANSON D. MOREHOUSE
IN CHARGE OF THE CENSUS OF CONSTRUCTION INDUSTRY

Bureau of the Census
Library

UNITED STATES
GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICE
WASHINGTON: 1933
CONTENTS

Construction materials—Continued. ........................................ 34
Determining prospective demand........................................... 34
Distortion of distribution ratios........................................... 35
Construction labor ................................................................ 35
Estimates per workman employed........................................... 35
Table XVI.—Number of workmen employed throughout the year and value of work done, wages paid, inventory value of equipment, and cost of materials per workman employed........................................ 36
Seasonal trend of employment................................................. 36
Table XVII.—Wage earners employed each month by principal groups of establishments........................................ 37
Length of working week......................................................... 37
Table XVIII.—Length of working week, number of workmen affected, and average annual wages paid by reporting establishments........................................ 38
Other conditions affecting labor............................................. 38
Strikes and lockouts.............................................................. 39
Accidents ............................................................................. 39
Fatalities................................................................................ 39
Table XIX.—Loss of time through strikes and lockouts and number of accidents and fatalities........................................ 39
Construction equipment.......................................................... 40
Table XX.—Inventory value of construction equipment owned in comparison with work done and wages paid........................................ 40
Classification of construction business................................... 40
Class of ownership of construction work................................ 40
Table XXI.—Ownership of construction business handled by all establishments........................................ 41
Class of construction.............................................................. 42
Table XXII.—Value of each class of construction handled under general contract or directly for owners........................................ 42

CHAPTER IV.—STATISTICS BY STATES

State tables............................................................................ 49
Cross references among tabulations........................................ 49
Table XXX.—Value of construction business and principal items of expenditure, including estimates for establishments reporting a business of less than $25,000........................................ 50
Table XXXI.—Principal and other expenditures of all classes of reporting establishments........................................ 51
Table XXXII.—Cost of labor and materials by all classes of establishments........................................ 52
Table XXXIII.—Wage earners employed each month and wages paid during the year by all classes of reporting establishments........................................ 53
Table XXXIV.—Loss of time through strikes and lockouts and number of accidents and fatalities for all classes of reporting establishments........................................ 54
Table XXXV.—Inventory value of construction equipment owned in comparison with work done and wages paid by all classes of establishments........................................ 55
Table XXXVI.—Ownership of construction business handled by all classes of reporting establishments........................................ 56

Classification of construction businesses—Continued. Page

Class of buildings................................................................. 42
Table XXIII.—Value of each class of building construction handled under general contract or directly for owners........................................ 43
Class of public works and utilities.......................................... 43
Table XXIV.—Value of each class of public works and utilities construction handled under general contract or directly for owners........................................ 44
Class of subcontract work...................................................... 44
Table XXV.—Value of each principal class of work handled under subcontract........................................ 44
Field of construction activity.................................................. 44
All reporting establishments................................................... 44
Table XXVI.—Location in the home city, in the home State, and elsewhere, of construction business reported by establishments throughout the United States........................................ 45
Establishments of principal cities.......................................... 45
Table XXVII.—Location in the home city, in the home State, and elsewhere, of construction business reported by establishments in 92 cities of over 100,000 population........................................ 46
Table XXVIII.—Total and average value of business reported by establishments whose offices were located throughout the United States in 93 principal cities and in other localities........................................ 46
Business of establishments of 93 principal cities and other localities........................................ 46
Table XXIX.—Value of construction business, principal items of expenditure, and construction work done by establishments whose offices were located in 93 principal cities and in other localities........................................ 47
Conclusion............................................................................ 47

Table XXXVII.—Ownership of public construction business handled by all classes of reporting establishments........................................ 57
Table XXXVIII.—Value of each principal class of construction business handled under general contract or directly for owners by all classes of reporting establishments........................................ 58
Table XXXIX.—Value of each principal class of work handled under subcontract by all classes of reporting establishments........................................ 59
Table XL.—Location of construction business in the home city, in the home State, and elsewhere of all classes of reporting establishments throughout the United States which had a business of over $25,000 during 1929........................................ 63
Table XLI.—Location of construction business in the home city, in the home State, and elsewhere of all classes of reporting establishments in 92 cities of over 100,000 population, which had a business of over $25,000 during 1929........................................ 64
CONTENTS

CHAPTER V.—DETAILED TABLES FOR THE UNITED STATES

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Table</th>
<th>Page</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Presentation of results</td>
<td>65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Explanation of tables</td>
<td>65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Establishments whose 1929 business was $25,000 or more</td>
<td>65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Establishments whose 1929 business was less than $25,000</td>
<td>68</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>United States Summary tables: Complete statistics in detail by kinds of business or classes of establishments for the United States and for geographic divisions:</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Table 1.—Value of construction business during 1929, and principal items of expenditure</td>
<td>60</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Table 2.—Construction business of reporting establishments during 1929, by class of ownership and by type of work</td>
<td>77</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Table 3.—Construction business during 1929, by location</td>
<td>84</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Table 4.—Construction business outside home State, by location</td>
<td>88</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Table 5.—Number and salaries of proprietors, firm members, and salaried employees: 1929.</td>
<td>91</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Table 6.—Value of construction equipment, in comparison with construction business and wages paid during 1929.</td>
<td>99</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Table 7.—Wage earners, by months, and wages paid during 1929.</td>
<td>104</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>United States Summary tables—Continued.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Table 8.—Expenditures of reporting establishments: 1929.</td>
<td>115</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Table 9.—Cost of materials furnished and used by reporting establishements during 1929, by kind.</td>
<td>123</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Table 10.—Comparison of cost of designated materials furnished and used by reporting establishments during 1929, with cost of materials and value of construction business.</td>
<td>127</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Table 11.—Cost of materials furnished and used by reporting establishements during 1929.</td>
<td>141</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Table 12.—Number of and volume of business reported by establishments doing a construction business of less than $25,000 in 1929, percentage of total number of known establishments, and average volume per establishment.</td>
<td>168</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Table 13.—Establishments (whose business was less than $25,000 in 1929) which reported their volume of construction work, classified by range of volume of business.</td>
<td>171</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>