CORRECTION NOTE

The official 1970 resident population count for the United States is 203,235,298. This differs from the figure of 203,211,926 shown in the tables of this report; the correction results from errors found after the tabulations were completed. The official 1970 resident population counts for States are shown in text table A on page VIII. Information on corrections for areas within each State, if any, appear on page 6 of the numbered part for the particular State. None of the tables in the United States Summary or State parts has been revised to reflect these corrections, which include those originally listed in the individual PC(1)-A reports and those found after issuance of the individual reports.

(For convenience in assembling this volume, pages 39 and 40 are omitted.)

¹Puerto Rico was ceded to the United States by Spain in 1898. On July 25, 1952, pursuant to acts of Congress, it achieved the political status of the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

²Includes population of the Corn Islands (1960, 1,872; 1950, 1,304) not shown separately. Lease (1914) of the Corn Islands from the Republic of Nicaragua has been terminated. Area of these islands (4 square miles) not included in area total.

³Uninhabited in 1970; Enderbury Island uninhabited in 1960 and 1950.

⁴Less than 0.5 square mile.

⁵Sand Island uninhabited at time of enumeration.

⁶Area is for Navassa (2 square miles), Baker, Howland, and Jarvis (3 square miles), and Palmyra (4 square miles); uninhabited at time of enumeration.

⁷Under jurisdiction of the United States in accordance with the treaty of November 18, 1903, with the Republic of Panama.

⁸Administered by the United States since July 18, 1947, under the United Nations Trusteeship system.

⁹Comprised of land area of 717 square miles and water area of 7,772 square miles.

¹⁰From Census of 1958 conducted by the Office of the High Commissioner, Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands.

¹¹Estimated civilian population as of June 30, 1950.

¹²Excludes U.S. citizens temporarily abroad on private business, travel, etc. Such persons were enumerated at their usual place of residence in the United States as absent members of their own households.

¹³Based on 20-percent sample of reports received.

¹⁴Based partially on tabulations provided by Department of Defense.

¹⁵Represents U.S. citizens abroad for extended periods. Since this population was enumerated on a voluntary basis, its coverage is probably less complete than that of other categories of Americans abroad.

¹Percentage increases are computed on basis of change in population since preceding census date, and period covered therefore is not always exactly 10 years. Adjustments for differences in census dates must be made if strictly comparable figures are desired for each decade. ²Figures given for various census years represent the area of all land within the present boundaries of the United States which was under the jurisdiction of the United States on the date in question, including in some cases considerable areas of land not then organized or settled and not covered by the census. In 1870, for example, Alaska was not covered by the census. ³Revised since publication of 1960 reports. ⁴Revised figure of 39,818,449 for the 1870 population includes adjustments for underenumeration in the Southern States. Unadjusted data are used in this and subsequent tables because revised figures for States, urban-rural residence, etc., are not available. On the basis of the revised figure, the population increased by 8,375,128, or 26.6 percent, between 1860 and 1870, and by 10,370,760, or 26.1 percent, between 1870 and 1880.

¹In 1970, portions of 59 cities are classified as rural; the size classification in this table is based on the total population within legal boundaries. See section on "Extended cities" in text. ²Figures for items under "Urban" and "Urbanized areas" exclude the 100,651 persons classified as rural within extended cities. ³Figures for 1970 include the 100,651 persons classified as rural within extended cities.

¹In 1970, relatively sparsely settled portions of certain unincorporated places are classified as rural. In this table the population of these portions are excluded from the items under "Urban" and included in "Other rural." The size class to which these places are assigned, however, is based on the population of the places within their legal boundaries. See text for explanation. ²In 1940 and later censuses, Bluefield, Va., and Bluefield, W. Va.; Bristol, Tenn., and Bristol, Va.; Delmar, Del., and Delmar, Md.; Harrison, Ohio, and West Harrison, Ind.; Junction City, Ark., and Junction City, La.; Texarkana, Ark., and Texarkana, Tex.; Texhoma, Okla., and Texhoma, Tex.; and Union City, Ind., and Union City, Ohio, were counted as separate incorporated places, whereas in 1930 each pair was counted as a single place.

³Not returned separately.

¹Revised since publication of 1960 reports. ²Numerous revisions in land areas since 1960 reports principally caused by use of city land area figures from Series GE-20 reports or corrections of 1960 figures by city officials. ³Land area for 1970 central cities furnished by city officials. ⁴There was no urbanized area delineated for the 1960 census. ⁵Part of Galveston Urbanized Area detached to form part of Texas City-La Marque Urbanized Area. Figures for 1960 allocated to each area as defined in 1970. ⁶There were separate urbanized areas delineated for Los Angeles-Long Beach and Pomona-Ontario for the 1960 census. Figures for 1960 relate to the combined areas. ⁷Not a central city in 1960. ⁸Not a central city in 1970. ⁹Figures for 1960 are for Nashville city only.
