GENERAL

This report presents detailed statistics for the United States and regions on the earnings of males, 18 years old and over, and females, 18 to 64 years of age, classified by various demographic, social, and economic characteristics. The statistics are based on the 1970 Census of Population. Legal provision for this census, which was conducted as of April 1, 1970, was made in the Act of Congress of August 31, 1954 (amended August 1957), which codified Title 13, United States Code.

A major portion of the information compiled from the 1970 Census of Population appears in Volume I, Characteristics of the Population, which focuses on the presentation of data for States, counties, places, and other areas of the United States. The present report is part of Volume II, Subject Reports, wherein most reports concentrate on the presentation of national and regional data for a particular subject. For a description of Volumes

I and II, as well as other elements of the data dissemination program of the 1970 Population and Housing Census, see Appendix E, "Publication and Computer Summary Tape Program."

The content and procedures of the 1970 census were determined after evaluation of the results of the 1960 census, consultation with a wide variety of users of census data, and extensive field pretesting. A number of changes were introduced in 1970 to improve the usefulness of the census results. For the characteristics shown in this report, the changes do not, however, affect to any appreciable extent the comparability of the 1970 data with those for 1960.

More detailed information on the technical and procedural matters covered in the text of this report can be obtained by writing to the Director, Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233. Such information will also appear in later reports of the 1970 census.

Organization of the text.—The text consists of this introduction and Appendixes A through E, which appear after the tables. The introduction contains information relating specifically to the principal subject of this report, such as definitions of terms and editing procedures. Appendix A provides general information concerning the presentation of data in this series of reports and the collection and processing procedures of the 1970 census. Appendix B describes the various area classifications (e.g., urban and rural residence, urbanized areas, etc.) and also explains the residence rules used in counting the population. Appendix C provides brief definitions and explanations of subjects covered in cross-classifications in this report and other reports in this series. Appendix D presents information on sources of error in the data, sampling variability, ratio estimation, and editing procedures. Appendix E summarizes the data dissemination program.

Content of the tables.—Tables 1 through 11 present cross-classifications of earnings by characteristics such as occupation, educational attainment, labor force status, age, race, and Spanish origin. The statistics in tables 1 through 6 focus on males; those in tables 7 through 11, on females. Tables 3, 4, 9, and 10 give data for selected regions.

Sample size.—The statistics in this report are based on a sample inflated to represent the total population. All tables are based on the 5-percent sample (see "Data Collection Procedures" in Appendix A). An explanation of the ratio estimation procedure and information on the sampling variability associated with the data are contained in Appendix D.

RELATED MATERIALS

1970 census reports.—Statistics on earnings, based on a 20-percent sample, are presented for the United States, regions, divisions, States, standard metropolitan statistical areas, urbanized areas, places of 2,500 or more, and counties in chapters C and D of the 1970 Census of Population, Volume I, Characteristics of the Population. The statistics in chapter D, which are shown for only the larger areas, include cross-classifications of earnings by occupation and other social and economic characteristics. Most of the statistics in chapters C and D are for persons 16 years old and over. Part 1 of Volume I includes these two chapters for the United States as a whole; the remaining parts of Volume I are for each State, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and selected outlying areas. Chapters C and D were originally published as paperbound Series PC(1)-C reports, General Social and Economic Characteristics, and Series PC(1)-D reports, Detailed Characteristics.

Reports from earlier censuses.—In the 1960 census reports, data on earnings from a 5-percent sample, cross-classified by most of the characteristics shown in this report, were published in 1960 Census of Population, Volume II, Subject Reports, PC(2)-7B, "Occupation by Earnings and Education." Data on earnings, based on a 25-percent sample of the population, for regions, divisions, States, standard metropolitan statistical areas, cities, and counties were published in 1960 Census of Population, Volume I, Characteristics of the Population. Additional statistics on earnings were included in other Volume II reports of the 1960 Census of Population.

In the 1950 census reports, data on the total income of persons 14 years old and over, by intermediate occupation group and sex, appear in Volume II of the 1950 Census of Population. Data on the total income of persons 14 years old and over by years of school completed, age, and race, were published in a report entitled "Education," which was Part 5B of Volume IV, Special Reports, of the 1950 Census of Population.

Current Population Survey.—Each year since 1945, the Current Population Survey (CPS), conducted by the Bureau of the Census, has provided estimates of the total income of persons 14 years old and over by sex and major occupation group for the United States (Current Population Reports, Series P-60). Since 1958, statistics on the earnings of persons by occupation group have also been published in the P-60 reports. The income statistics provided by the CPS are, with a few exceptions, comparable with the decennial census statistics. The actual comparability of the earnings statistics is discussed in the section below on "Comparability with Other Data."

Unpublished data.—For most of the Volume II reports, statistics in addition to those published in the report are available on a reimbursable basis from computer tape files. Data shown for the United States as a whole are available for regions, divisions, and States, and, in a number of instances, the data for some characteristics were tabulated in greater detail than shown in the reports. Requests for unpublished data, giving a specific description of the figures desired, may be made by writing to the Director, Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233. Inquiries concerning unpublished data should be transmitted to the Bureau as soon as possible because tape files are not maintained indefinitely.

DEFINITIONS AND EXPLANATIONS OF PRINCIPAL SUBJECTS

The definitions and explanations below relate only to earnings and occupation; education is defined in Appendix C. Brief definitions of other items that appear in cross-classifications in the tables of this report are presented in Appendix C.

Earnings in 1969

The data on earnings were derived from answers to question 40 (see facsimile of questionnaire item below).

Information on money earnings received in the calendar year 1969 was requested from all persons 14 years old and over in the 20-percent sample. "Total earnings" is the algebraic sum of the amounts reported in item 40a (wage or salary income), item 40b (nonfarm net self-employment income), and item 40c (farm net self-employment income).

The figures represent the amount of income received before deductions for personal income taxes, Social Security, bond purchases, union dues, medicare deductions, etc.

40. Earnings in 1969— Fill parts a, b, and c for everyone who worked any time in 1969 even if he had no income.
(If exact amount is not known, give best estimate.)

a. How much did this person earn in 1969 in wages, salary, commissions, bonuses, or tips from all jobs? (Before deductions for taxes, bonds, dues, or other items.)	$ _____ .00 (Dollars only) OR <input type="radio"/> None
b. How much did he earn in 1969 from his own nonfarm business, professional practice, or partnership? (Net after business expenses. If business lost money, write "Loss" above amount.)	$ _____ .00 (Dollars only) OR <input type="radio"/> None
c. How much did he earn in 1969 from his own farm? (Net after operating expenses. Include earnings as a tenant farmer or sharecropper. If farm lost money, write "Loss" above amount.)	$ _____ .00 (Dollars only) OR <input type="radio"/> None

Receipts from the following sources were not included as income: money received from the sale of property (unless the recipient was engaged in the business of selling such property, in which case, the net proceeds would be counted as income from self-employment); the value of income "in kind" such as free living quarters or food produced and consumed in the home; withdrawal of bank deposits; money borrowed; tax refunds; exchange of money between relatives living in the same household; gifts and lump-sum inheritances, insurance payments, and other types of lump-sum receipts.

Type of Income

Wage or salary income.—This is defined as the total money earnings received for work performed as an employee at any time during the calendar year 1969. It includes wages, salaries, pay from Armed Forces, commissions, tips, piece-rate payments, and cash bonuses earned.

Nonfarm net self-employment income.—This is defined as net money income (gross receipts minus business expenses) received from a business, professional enterprise, or partnership in which the person was engaged on his own account. Gross receipts include the value of all goods sold and services rendered. Business expenses include cost of goods purchased, rent, heat, light, power, depreciation charges, wages and salaries paid, business taxes (not personal income taxes), etc.

Farm net self-employment income.—This is defined as net money income (gross receipts minus operating expenses) received from the operation of a farm by a person on his own account, as an owner, renter, or sharecropper. Gross receipts include the value of all products sold, governmental subsidies, money received from the rental of farm equipment to others, and incidental receipts from the sale of wood, sand, and gravel, etc. Operating expenses include the cost of fuel, fertilizer, seed, and other farming supplies, cash wages paid to farmhands, depreciation charges, cash rent, interest on farm mortgages, farm building repairs, farm taxes (not Federal, State, and local income taxes), etc. The value of fuel, food, and other farm products used for family living is not included as part of net income.

Median and Mean Earnings

The median earnings is the amount that divides the distribution into two equal groups, one having earnings above the median and the other having earnings below the median. The median earnings was calculated on the basis of more detailed earnings intervals than those shown in the tables.

The mean earnings is the amount obtained by dividing the aggregate earnings of a particular statistical universe by the number of units in that universe.

Occupation Classification System

The occupational classification system developed for the 1970 census consists of 441 specific occupational categories arranged into 12 major occupation groups. In this report, selected groupings of the 441 categories are presented. The most detailed grouping comprises 125 occupation categories for total and white males in the experienced civilian labor force and 67 categories for corresponding females. A smaller number of occupation categories are also presented for Negro and Spanish origin males and females in the experienced civilian labor force. The component categories for the 125 occupation groups presented in table 1 of this report are shown in list A at the end of this introduction. Additional information on the composition of the detailed categories is given in the publication, 1970 Census of Population, Classified Index of Industries and Occupations, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C., 1971.

Limitations of the Data

Since questionnaire entries for earnings are frequently based on memory and not on records, many persons tend to forget minor or irregular sources of income, and, therefore, underreport their earnings. In addition, there are errors of reporting due to misunderstanding of the earnings questions. One such error is the reporting of gross instead of net dollar amounts for the two questions on net self-employment income, which results in the overstatement of these items. Another common error is the reporting of identical dollar amounts in two of the three earnings items where a respondent with only one source of earnings assumed that the second amount should be entered to represent total earnings. Such instances of overreporting would have an impact on the level of mean earnings for the various occupation groups published in this report. Telephone callback procedures were instituted in the coding operation to reduce some of these reporting errors and to improve the accuracy of earnings data. Moreover, many reporting errors were rectified through the coding and the computer editing procedures, resulting in improved consistency of reported earnings items with work experience, occupation, and class-of-worker information. For example, if a person reported that he was a self-employed (not incorporated) farm worker but had reported wage or salary income only, the latter amount was shifted to net farm self-employment income. Another type of problem involved nonreporting of earnings data. Where earnings information was not reported, editing and allocation procedures were devised to impute appropriate values (either "none" or positive or negative dollar amounts) for the missing entries. These procedures are described in more detail in Appendix D, "Accuracy of the Data."

The income data in this report cover money income only. The fact that many farm families receive an important part of their income in the form of "free" housing and goods produced and consumed on the farm rather than in money should be taken into consideration when comparing the income of farm and nonfarm residents. Nonmoney income is also received by some nonfarm residents. Such income often takes the form of business expense accounts, use of business transportation and facilities, or partial compensation by business for medical and educational expenses. Many low-income families also receive income "in kind" from public welfare programs. In comparing income data for 1969 with earlier years, it should be noted that an increase or decrease in money income does not necessarily represent a comparable change in real income, unless adjustments for changes in prices are made.

Comparability with Other Data

Earlier censuses.—In 1950, information on wage or salary and self-employment income was obtained from a 20-percent sample of persons 14 years old and over, but no tabulations relating to total earnings were made. In 1960, data on wage or salary and self-employment income were derived from a 25-percent sample of persons 14 years old and over and were published in 1960 Census of Population, Volume I, Characteristics of the Population.

Current Population Survey.—The earnings statistics shown in this report are not directly comparable with those shown from the March 1970 Current Population Survey. In the first place, the earnings figures shown in this report are for persons who were in the experienced civilian labor force in April 1970, whereas the earnings figures shown from the March 1970 CPS are for all persons who were civilian workers during 1969, regardless of their labor force status in March 1970. Secondly, for an employed person, the occupation data from the 1970 census refer to the job held during the reference week, the week prior to enumeration; for an experienced unemployed person, the information refers to the last job held. The data on occupation by earnings from the March 1970 CPS refer to the civilian job held longest during 1969.

Income tax data.—For several reasons, the earnings data shown in this report are not directly comparable with those which may be obtained from statistical summaries of income tax returns. Income, as defined for tax purposes, differs somewhat from the Bureau of the Census concept. Moreover, the coverage of income tax statistics is different because of the exemptions of persons having small amounts of income and the inclusion of net capital gains in tax returns. Furthermore, members of some families file separate returns and others file joint returns; consequently, the income reporting unit is not consistently either a family or a person.

Social Security Administration earnings record data.—The earnings data shown in this report are not directly comparable with earnings records of the Social Security Administration. The earnings record data for 1969 exclude the earnings of most civilian government employees, some employees of nonprofit organizations, workers covered by the Railroad Retirement Act, and persons not covered by the program because of insufficient earnings. Furthermore, earnings received from any one employer in excess of $7,800 in 1969 are not covered by earnings records. Finally, since census data are obtained from household questionnaires, they differ from Social Security Administration earnings record data, which are based upon employers' reports and the Federal income tax returns of self-employed persons.
